FUNERALS.

Mrs. Mary Crowley.

At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning the funeral of Mrs. Mary Crowley was held from St. Patrick's church in Chicopee. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Crowley, widow of Thomas Crowley, died at her home, 29 Broadway, Chicopee, Monday morning. She was born in Ireland. She is survived by three sisters, Miss Hannah Collins of Northampton, Misses Johanna and Eliza Collins of Chicopee Falls, a brother, John Collins of Troy, N. Y., and a son, Dr. Thomas A. Crowley of Norwich.

Mrs. Joseph James.

The remains of Elizabeth, widow of Joseph James, arrived here from South Weeham, where services were held at the home of F. B. Peckham, at 10 o'clock, at 11:55 o'clock Thursday morning, and were taken in charge by Henry Allen & Son. Burial was in Preston City, where a committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Fuller of the Preston City Congregational church. Relatives acted as bearers.

Mrs. Sarah Morgan.

At 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon the funeral of Mrs. Sarah Morgan was held from the home of her nephew, E. H. Rogers, in Oakdale, the services being conducted by Rev. H. T. Arnold of this city. There were many relatives and friends present. Friends acted as bearers, and burial was in Comstock cemetery at Uncasville. Henry Allen & Son had charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Gardner was a native of Oakdale, although part of her life was spent in North Waterford, her husband being a resident of that town. Since his death Mrs. Morgan has lived with her nephew. She has been an invalid for a long time. She is survived by a brother, two nephews and one niece.

Charles T. Barstow.

The funeral of Charles T. Barstow, formerly of this city, was held from his late home in Mystic Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. E. E. Gates of Ansonia, a brother Mason, officiated. The burial service was by Charity and Relief lodge, A. F. and A. M.

BOARD OF RELIEF BUSY.

Have Had About 100 Taxpayers Before Them Thus Far—Only One Who Will Give Lawyer a Chance.

The board of relief has thus far had about 100 taxpayers before them regarding the changes in the tax list by the assessors. The board feels gratified at the way the taxpayers look at the matter after the board presents the facts to them and shows them the existing conditions of their property and that surrounding. There have been a few who did not know how much they were raised, but as long as they were raised wanted to register an objection. Thus far there has been but one taxpayer who has told the board that he will put the matter in a lawyer's hands.

GYPSY CARNIVAL HELD AT SPIRITUAL ACADEMY

Followed Regular Fortnightly Supper of Helping Hands.

As the pioneers of novel entertainments, the Helping Hands of the Spiritual academy added Thursday night a new glory to their record. The supper, which was the regular fortnightly one, was in keeping with the general scheme of the evening, and consisted of baked beans, served in gypsy kettles, brown bread, biscuit, pickles, cake, and tea and coffee. The waitresses being in correct gypsy costume added brilliant touches to the already gaudy camp.

The vestry was profusely decorated with pine trees, extending to and on the sidewalk outside the academy. On the central platform was erected a camp, with a hedge of green trees, enclosing a scarlet tent, and huge brass gypsy kettle suspended on a tripod over an electric camp fire, where Ruth Regan, in a bewitching gypsy costume dispensed mystery packages from the kettle to the anxious crowd.

In a nearby corner, where was erected another brilliant tent, with evergreen hedge, Miss Mary P. Clapp as Miss Palma, read palms to the great entertainment of the eager patrons. Mrs. Charles A. Dowsett had charge of the gypsy games that followed the supper. The game of the sick gypsy was won by Charles Martin and the person pinning the mustard correctly on the gypsy was Mrs. E. Carroll. The prize in each case was a crystal kettle filled with scarlet bonbons.

Mrs. Charles Spalding pleased all by her well rendered recitations. The society netted a snug sum as the result of this novel affair.

OBITUARY.

David D. Chase.

Early Thursday morning occurred the death of David Dudley Chase at the Norwich hospital, in his 57th year. He was the son of Judge David Chase and Amy Graves Chase, and was born in Killingly, April 8, 1852, and resided in his native town until about 1870. In his early years he taught school in Rhode Island for 13 consecutive years. For about fifteen years he held the position of clerk of the court of probate in Brooklyn, besides being honored with most of the offices of the town.

Mr. Chase married Lucy Brayton Hopkins, daughter of Noyes Hopkins of Hopkinton, Mass. and Patten Greene Brayton of Swansea, Mass. Mrs. Chase passed away Nov. 21, 1904, in Norwich. Mr. Chase's later years were spent in Taunton, Mass., and from there he moved to Norwich, where he has resided for the past six years. He was a man of genial disposition and made many true friends by his pleasant and sympathetic manner, and was highly esteemed among the old residents of Killingly, where he had resided for about fifty years. He is survived by a brother, Lewis Chase of Killingly, who is in his 87th year, and five children—Mrs. L. Emogene Douglas of Lincoln, N. J.; Mark B. Chase of Marion, O.; Walter H. Chase of Greenville, N. Y.; and Noyes D. Chase of Norwich Town.

Miss Mary Rathbun.

The death of Miss Mary Rathbun of Noank occurred Thursday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rathbun, shortly before eleven o'clock. Miss Rathbun has been ill a long time, but her death came as a surprise to her friends and relatives.

Miss Rathbun was in her thirty-first year, being born December 17, 1878. She leaves besides her parents, four sisters, Mrs. Eugene Smith of Norwich, Mrs. Henry Langworthy, Mrs. Webster Eldred and Miss Ina Rathbun, all of Noank. There is one brother, Albert Rathbun, Jr., also of Noank.

Thomas E. Hogan.

The death of Thomas E. Hogan occurred at his home in Franklin street about ten o'clock Thursday night. He had been in poor health for some time, but his death will be a surprise to his many friends, who will deeply regret his taking away. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hogan of Hickory street, where he resided until a few months ago. He was a repairer of musical instruments and a skilled workman. He is survived by his parents, a wife and two children. He leaves a brother in Hartford and one in Brooklyn. A sister lives here.

REGULAR OFFICER WILL INSTRUCT LOCAL COMPANIES

Will Spend Five Days with Third and Fifth Commands—Former Made About $250 at Ball.

At the weekly drill of the Third company, C. A. C., at the armory on Thursday evening there was blanket rolling preparatory for the inspection Monday evening by the regular army officer. There was also a company meeting, at which it was voted to let the boxes and decorations for the ball to the Catholic Women's club. The report for the recent ball is not completed as yet, but it is believed the company will realize about $250.

Orders were received from headquarters stating that Private Pratt of Fort Mansfield will be here for five nights of the week of the 15th for instruction to the company in range finding and other artillery work. He will be here for this company from the 15th to the 19th inclusive. The Fifth company he will be here from the 23d to the 26th inclusive for the same instructions to that command. He will give equal time to all the companies in the corps.

Portuguese Girl Prisoner in Norwich

Maria Albi of Newmarket, N. H., Accuses Two Men and They are Arrested in Providence—Locked up and Assaulted in Local Boarding House.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Providence, Feb. 4.—Maria Albi, a comely Portuguese woman of 19 years of age, appeared to the police of this city this morning for protection, telling a weird tale of her alleged experiences of the last few days, a portion of which she claimed were passed in Norwich as an inmate of a Portuguese boarding house, where she claims she was subjected to abuse and repeated assault. On one of these occasions she claims to have made such an outcry that other inmates of the house intervened for her protection.

The woman's story as she told it to the police of the Third precinct is as follows: About noon last Saturday she was at her home in Newmarket, N. H., when a comely man named Henry Taberous, 35 years of age, accompanied by his nephew, a lad of 7 years, came to the door and finding her husband Louis there ordered him to leave. This the latter refused to do until Taberous drew a pistol, according to Mrs. Albi, and threatened to shoot him if he did not leave. He then compelled the woman to accompany him. He took her to Boston, she claims, where they spent the night Saturday, and the next day he took her to Attleboro, leaving there Monday morning and going to Norwich, where they went to a Portuguese boarding house. She was unable to give any information as to the location of this place or who kept it, she claims that while there she was so closely guarded that she was unable to call upon the police. On Wednesday, in one of Taberous' attempts to assault her, she made such an outcry that other inmates of the house rushed into the room and pulled Taberous away from her. Late yesterday afternoon Taberous brought her to this city and they remained last night in a Brava settlement. This morning as they were going along South Main street the boy complained of being hungry and while Taberous was absent in a store the young woman, seeing Patrolman McNamara passing along the end of the street, ran to him and told her story. Other patrolmen were summoned and Taberous and the boy taken into custody and were locked up at the Third station while the woman's story was being investigated.

Lieutenant Robblee at once, after hearing the girl's story, went out on a still hunt for Harry and his brother Antonio, whom she accused, and found them on the street looking for the girl. He took them to the station and questioned them. They denied absolutely the stories told by the girl and declared that they were really aiding her to escape from her husband. They had the checks for two dress suit cases belonging to the girl, and after obtaining them the lieutenant allowed them to depart, the police finding a place for the girl to spend the night.

Thursday morning all of them, including a small boy named Ollie, son of the younger Taberous, called at the station, where they were questioned at length by Captain Cannon. He and Sergeant Kane investigated the case further and all of the persons concerned are being held until word can be sent to the authorities at Newmarket and Norwich. The girl still sticks to the same story, while the men are quiet as positive in denying her assertions.

CHARLES B. NICHOLS WILL BE FIRST LIEUTENANT.

Has Passed Examination and the Formal Approval is Now Awaited—in Fifth Company Three Years.

An order issued from the office of the adjutant general, Wednesday, announced that Captain Morris B. Payne and First Lieutenant Edwin Cruise of the First company, Coast Artillery corps, New London, and Lieutenant Colonel Richard J. Goodman and Major Howard J. Blommer of the First Infantry have passed a satisfactory examination.

First Lieutenant Charles R. Nichols of the Fifth company, Coast Artillery corps, of Norwich, has passed an examination and will be appointed upon approval of the nomination.

The approval of nomination is simply a matter of form in the office of the adjutant general, where the matter has to lay for ten days, so that Lieutenant Nichols is really the first lieutenant of the company, dating from Jan. 26, 1906. He is a popular officer and his passing will be learned with pleasure.

Lieutenant Nichols was a charter member of Company A. C. N. G., in which his qualifications for an officer were quickly recognized and he was advanced to artificer, corporal and sergeant. There was a vacancy in the board of officers of Company C and he was appointed second lieutenant there June 16, 1906, and has since proved an efficient officer for the company, which is now the Fifth company, C. A. C. He was the choice of the company for the position of first lieutenant and having passed the examination there is now a vacancy for second lieutenant. Sergeant Shum of the Fifth company has been awarded a cross of honor for five and a half years' continuous service.

MISS BUCKINGHAM'S PUPILS.

Charming Recital Given by Them at Norwich Club House—Invited Guests Present.

Those who were privileged to be present at the recital given by the pupils of Miss Maud Carey Buckingham of Norwich club house at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon were delighted with the manner in which the programme of ten numbers was given, showing the results of the careful training they had received. Accuracy and neatness with effective expression and thorough understanding by the pupils of their selections reflected much credit on the teacher. All the numbers were beautifully given. Miss Elizabeth Crowe and Miss Mabel Murray acting as accompanists. The cantata and operetta by the Crowe family were sung with confidence and good voice, the voices blending perfectly. Mrs. Whiting and Miss McNeely gave much pleasure in their numbers, as did the Crowe children in their solo numbers. The programme follows: "Calm as the Night, Bohm, Mrs. Nathan E. Whiting; cantata, Paul Revere's Ride, Busch, Crowe family; Paded Rose, Roma, Mrs. Maud Crowe; Captain Rogers, Samuel Crowe; Love Like a Flower Grows, Wellman, Miss Elizabeth Crowe; Sing as I Sail With the Rolling Gales, Krouse, John Crowe; Dainty Dorothea, DeKoven, Miss Mary Crowe; (a) about, Metastasi (b) Romalia, DeKoven, Miss Phoebe McNeely; I Fear No Perils of the Deep, William Crowe; operetta, Pauline, Sullivan, Crowe family.

Faith in Chief Stanton.

That the fireman is always the incomparable hero of the small boy, and that Chief Stanton holds this place in the minds of some Norwich juveniles, is indicated by the following, which is vouched for by the product of a War Side small boy: Reproved by his mother for the use of the word "hell," he still continued to make use of the word, till at the third reproof his mother said to him: "You mustn't use the word hell, my son; hell is a place where there is a great big fire." Quick came the rejoinder from the small boy: "But couldn't Chief Stanton put it out, mamma?"
